MODEL MASTER<sup>TM</sup> ACCESSORIES

Model Master Hobby Tools and Accessories are designed to help you build better models. Each is precisely crafted from the finest materials and will last for years.

CEMENTS

Utilizing glue to bond parts together is an essential component of building models. Model Master cements are designed with this in mind.

8876C* | Clear Parts Cement Window Maker

>> Non-toxic and non-crazing. Used on clear polystyrene to make small windows because it dries clear as glass.

8872C* | Liquid Cement for Plastic

>> Designed specifically for plastic models; joining polystyrene to polystyrene.

8874C* | Instant Adhesive

>> Cures fast, clean and clear and will not attack paint.

8815 | Precision Glue Tips

Use U.S. part number for Canadian orders, unless noted. *Not available in Canada.

8861C | 1/2" Black Sable Flat

>> Broad area color applications and washes.

8851C | 3/8" Camel Hair Flat

FLOQUIL® BRUSHES

BRUSH 101*

Tip >> point (round brush) or chisel edge (flat)

Reservoir >> belly or center portion of the brush hairs – the area of the brush head that holds the majority of the paint

Brush Hairs or Filaments >> brush head

Ferrule >> the metal piece that connects the handle and hairs of a brush. Brush hairs are inserted into one end of the ferrule and glued. The open end of the ferrule is then glued or crimped (or both) to the handle.

Brushes Types:

Flat >> flat ferrule. All of the following are flat brushes: shader, chisel blender, bright, short bright, glaze/wash, stroke, single stroke and monogram. Flat brushes come in many sizes from Nos. 0 to 20 (and sometimes as large as 44), and also may be sized in inches: ¼", ½", etc. Good for a basecoat, C-stroke or crescent strokes and S-strokes. Apply glazes and washes, varnishing and applying gesso and surface sealers.

Round >> round ferrule. Good for C-strokes, S-strokes and all thin-thick and thick to thin strokes. Surface designs and borders.

Liners >> round ferrule (a subset of round). Good for detail and linework – squiggles, vines, curls/curves etc. They may also be used for tiny, delicate stroke-work. Paint should be thinned before loading a line.

Which brush do I pick?

Stiff natural hairs or soft natural hairs or synthetic hairs?

Sables are for blending and synthetic for fine chisel tips. To float color, choose a flat/shader brush with a good chisel edge and a full belly or reservoir. For blending oil paints a sable short brush is good. To create texture in high viscosity paints (oils, tube acrylics, resin) choose a good natural hog's bristle brush. Do not choose a bristle unless you want texture in your basecoat.

Generally speaking, natural brushes are capable of carrying a heavier load of paint than synthetics. However, many synthetics are as durable and can perform as well and can usually stand more abuse and lack of care than natural hairs and bristles.

AZTEK®

As many modelers know, truly intricate detail work requires the use of an airbrush. Airbrushes allow the modeler to control the spray pattern from narrow to wide, making it possible to create sharp demarcations and delicate lines. Also allows modelers to mix colors. Testors offers the easiest-to-use and easiest-to-maintain airbrush system in the world. Once modelers try out Testors' Aztek® airbrush system, they love it, because it makes fast, easy and accurate work of turning models into masterpieces. Testors offers a variety of airbrush models to fulfill the needs of all modelers—from beginners to the most advanced.

WHY AZTEK?

EASIEST TO CLEAN AND MAINTAIN

Standard airbrushes get covered with paint, requiring complete disassembly to clean. Aztek requires no disassembly. Paint travels directly to and through the nozzle, entirely bypassing the airbrush body.

EASIEST SPRAY PATTERN CHANGES

Aztek lays down a full range of special effects without time-consuming, complex needle adjustments. Allows quickly moving from one spray pattern to another by simply changing the unique, easy and patented interchangeable nozzles.

MOST ERGONOMIC COMFORT GRIP

Thoughtful ergonomic design comfortably fits in the hand, reducing fatigue and providing a good grip while spraying. Airbrush body is also impervious to solvents.

"I bought my double-action airbrush in 1993... it has served me well and I recommend it to anyone looking to buy an airbrush."
